

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NEW JERSEY DISTRICT COURT

NORRIS HITE, INDIVIDUALLY AND ON BEHALF OF ALL OTHERS
SIMILARLY SITUATED,

Plaintiff,

v.

THE FINISH LINE, INC.,

Defendant.

Case No. _____

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff NORRIS HITE (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, makes the following allegations based on her personal knowledge of her own acts and, otherwise, upon information and belief including based on investigation of counsel.

NATURE AND SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

1. Plaintiff, by and through undersigned counsel, brings this action both on her own behalf and on behalf of the class defined below, comprised of all individuals similarly situated within the State of New Jersey, to redress the unlawful commercial practices employed by Defendant THE FINISH LINE, INC. (hereinafter “Defendant”) regarding unlawful terms and conditions that purport to govern products purchased from Defendant’s website, www.finishline.com. Specifically, and as detailed more fully below, at the time Plaintiff and Class Members purchase items from Defendant, Defendant’s website contained a consumer contract (entitled “Finishline.com – Website Terms of Use Agreement” – hereinafter “Terms of Use”) that purported to impose illegal exculpatory and other such provisions upon all users of its website and purported to nullify certain legal duties and responsibilities Defendant owes its consumers and prospective consumers.

2. Defendant has imposed the unfair, one-sided provisions in its Terms of Use in violation of certain statutory and common law standards and New Jersey's Truth-in-Consumer Contract, Warranty and Notice Act ("TCCWNA"), N.J.S.A. 56:12-14 et seq.

PARTIES

3. Plaintiff Norris Hite is an individual adult resident and citizen of Atlantic County, New Jersey, and is a member of the Class alleged herein.

4. Plaintiff purchased a pullover hoodie through Defendant's website, www.finishline.com, on or about October 25, 2015. Plaintiff and Class Members are "consumers" and/or "prospective consumers" as defined by N.J.S.A. 56:12-15.

5. Defendant The Finish Line, Inc. is incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, with its headquarters located at 3308 N. Mitthoeffer Road, Indianapolis, Indiana 46235. Defendant is a "seller" as described in N.J.S.A. 56:12-15. As such, Defendant is a citizen of Indiana.

6. At all relevant times, Defendant sold products by means of its website, www.finishline.com, in the State of New Jersey, utilizing unfair, one-sided provisions contained in its "Terms of Use" consumer contract which violate New Jersey law.

7. Defendant markets its goods and services throughout the State of New Jersey by means of its website. As such, New Jersey courts maintain a significant interest in regulating Defendant's conduct which emanates from New Jersey.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. §1332(d), because members of the proposed Class are citizens of states different from Defendant's home state, there are more than 100 Class Members, and the amount-in-controversy exceeds $5,000,000 exclusive of interest and costs.

9. This Court has jurisdiction over the Defendant named herein because Defendant has sufficient minimum contacts with New Jersey and/or otherwise intentionally avails itself of the laws and markets of New Jersey, through the promotion, sale, marketing and distribution of its goods and services in New Jersey, to render the exercise of jurisdiction by the New Jersey courts permissible.

10. Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. §1391(b) because Defendant's improper conduct alleged in this complaint occurred in, was directed from, and/or emanated from this judicial district, because Defendant has caused harm to Class Members residing in this district, and/or because the Defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction in this district.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

11. Defendant markets a variety of athletic shoes, active wear and related products throughout the State of New Jersey via its website, www.finishline.com.

12. Plaintiff and Class Members purchased products from Defendant's website and/or were users of Defendant's website and/or were prospective consumers otherwise displayed and/or offered the "Term of Use" on Defendant's website. Consumers and prospective consumer's rights with respect to products purchased through Defendant's website were purportedly governed by a website document entitled "Finishline.com – Website Terms of Use Agreement" ("Terms of Use").

13. The "Terms of Use" purport to be a binding agreement between Defendant and all parties who use the website and/or purchase any of the products available on Defendant's website, as shown below.

By accessing the Site via the World Wide Web or any other medium, User accepts and agrees to all conditions imposed in this Terms of Use Agreement.

14. At all relevant times, the representatively binding provisions in the “Terms of Use” imposed illegal conditions upon the customers who purchase products from Defendant’s website. Despite clear law to the contrary, Plaintiff and Class Members, upon purchase of goods and/or services from Defendant’s website, were purportedly forced to forego virtually any claim under tort or negligence arising from their use of the website and from their purchase of goods or services from the website.

15. At all relevant times, the “Terms of Use” also included a provision that requires Plaintiff and Class Members to indemnify Defendant and its personnel regarding any activity from the internet accounts of Plaintiff and Class Members.

16. All of these provisions violate the TCCWNA. Plaintiff’s counsel previously notified Defendant of the violations set forth herein. Since that date, Defendant has purported to make changes in some of the language of its “Terms of Use” in order to address those violations, a fact which underscores strongly the correctness and validity of Plaintiff’s position and of the factual and legal contentions set forth in this Complaint.

A. Terms of Use Which Purport to Exculpate Defendant From Liability for Any and All Tortious Actions and Purport to Deny Plaintiff’s Grounds for Redress Violate the TCCWNA.

17. New Jersey law specifically prohibits the type of exculpatory clause contained in Defendant’s “Terms of Use”. Exculpatory provisions are disfavored by New Jersey law because “they undermine one purpose of tort law, which is to deter careless behavior by a party in the best position to prevent injuries in the first place.” See Martinez-Santiago v. Public Storage, 38 F.Supp.3d 500, 512-513 (D.N.J. 2014) (“[h]ere, the exculpatory provision purports to hold [defendant] harmless for most losses incurred by consumers, except those that are the direct result of [defendant's] fraud or willful conduct. Although Plaintiff plausibly pleads that such a broad exculpatory provision is not permitted under New Jersey law, the provision purports to be enforceable in the lease agreement. Plaintiff states a valid claim that this is the kind of provision that TCCWNA was designed to address.”); see also Marcinczyk v. State of N.J. Police Training Comm’n, 203 N.J. 586, 593 (2010).

18. Defendant purports to disclaim liability, among other things, for “ANY DAMAGE TO EQUIPMENT, HARDWARE OR OTHER PROPERTY OF USER OR PERSONAL INJURY THAT ARISES IN CONNECTION WITH THE USE OF THE SITE.” (Emphasis added.) This provision purports to bar Plaintiffs from asserting any cause of action against Defendant for its negligence or failure to exercise a basic standard of care in their dealings with consumers and prospective consumers. Likewise, the provision attempts to absolve Defendant of its legal responsibility to exercise reasonable care and avoid creating an unreasonable risk of harm to consumers.

19. Under well-established New Jersey law, Defendant owes a duty of care to Plaintiff to avoid creating an unreasonable risk of harm. Plaintiffs harmed by Defendant’s unreasonable conduct are entitled to collect damages. This provision purports to remove Defendant’s responsibility to act reasonably and purports to bar Plaintiff from redress for a breach of Defendant’s standard of care. This provision is contrary to New Jersey law. See, e.g. Hopkins v. Fox & Lazo Realtors, 132 N.J. 426, 448 (1993).

20. As such, the exculpatory clause violates the TCCWNA. Plaintiff’s counsel previously notified Defendant of the violations set forth herein. Since that date, Defendant has purported to make changes in some of the language of its “Terms of Use” in order to address those violations, a fact which underscores strongly the correctness and validity of Plaintiff's position and of the factual and legal contentions set forth in this Complaint.

B. Terms of Use Which Purport to Deny Rights, Responsibilities and Remedies Under the New Jersey Products Liability Act ("NJPLA") Violate the TCCWNA.

21. Additionally, at all relevant times the above-referenced provisions purported to absolve Defendant of its responsibility to manufacture and sell safe products. The provision further purported to bar Plaintiffs from exercising their legal right to seek redress under the NJPLA. See, N.J.S.A. 2A:58C-1, et al.

22. Namely, among other things, Defendant stated under its "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" provision that:

NEITHER FINISH LINE NOR ITS AFFILIATES, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR THIRD PARTY CONTENT PROVIDERS SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY LOSS RESULTING FROM USE OR UNAVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION OR CONTENT ON THIS SITE, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO ANY LOST PROFITS, LOSS OR DAMAGE TO DATA, OR ANY DIRECT, INDIRECT, SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, COMPENSATORY OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES, EVEN IF THEY HAVE BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

THIS DISCLAIMER IS APPLICABLE TO ANY DAMAGE OR INJURY RESULTING FROM NEGLIGENCE OR OMISSION OF FINISH LINE, COMPUTER VIRUS OR OTHER SIMILAR ITEM, TELECOMMUNICATIONS ERRORS, OR UNAUTHORIZED ACCESS TO OR USE OF USER INFORMATION THROUGH THEFT OR ANY OTHER MEANS. FINISH LINE IS NOT LIABLE FOR CRIMINAL, TORTIOUS, OR NEGLIGENT ACTIONS OR OMISSIONS OF THIRD PARTIES THAT AFFECT THIS SITE.

IN NO EVENT WILL FINISH LINE OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, AGENTS, EMPLOYEES, ASSIGNS OR THIRD PARTY CONTENT PROVIDERS BE HELD LIABLE FOR ANY TORTIOUS OR ILLEGAL CONDUCT OF OTHER USERS.

IN NO EVENT WILL FINISH LINE OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, AGENTS, EMPLOYEES OR ASSIGNS BE HELD LIABLE FOR ANY DAMAGE TO EQUIPMENT, HARDWARE OR OTHER PROPERTY OF USER OR PERSONAL INJURY THAT ARISES IN CONNECTION WITH USE OF THE SITE.

23. These provisions purport to deprive customers and prospective customers of their rights and remedies under the NJPLA and purport to absolve Defendant of its duty to manufacture and distribute a reasonably safe product free from defects.

24. Moreover, Defendant purports that they are not liable for any loss “EVEN IF THEY HAVE BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES”.

25. The New Jersey Products Liability Act was passed based on Legislative findings “that there is an urgent need for remedial legislation to establish clear rules with respect to certain matters relating to actions for damages for harm caused by products, including certain principles under which liability is imposed and the standards and procedures for the award of punitive damages.” N.J.S.A. 2A:58C-1 (emphasis added).

26. Under the Act, “[a] manufacturer or seller of a product shall be liable in a product liability action only if the claimant proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the product causing the harm was not reasonably fit, suitable or safe for its intended purpose because it: (a.) deviated from the design specifications, formulae, or performance standards of the manufacturer or from otherwise identical units manufactured to the same manufacturing specifications or formulae, or (b.) failed to contain adequate warnings or instructions, or (c.) was designed in a defective manner.” N.J.S.A. 2A:58C-2.

27. Plaintiffs who prevail under the NJPLA are entitled to recover any and all damages resulting from their injury, including punitive damages if properly demonstrated. See e.g. N.J. Civ. Jury Charge 1.12(O); Fischer v. Johns-Manville Corp., 103 N.J. 643, 670-71 (1986) (“punitive damages are available in . . . strict products liability actions when a manufacturer is (1) aware of or culpably indifferent to an unnecessary risk of injury, and (2) refuses to take steps to reduce that danger to an acceptable level. This standard can be met by a showing of ‘a deliberate act or omission with knowledge of a high degree of probability of harm and reckless indifference to consequences.’”) (internal citations omitted).

28. Given the clear danger of unsafe products as recognized by the New Jersey Legislature, to purport to deny consumers a cause of action for harm arising from a potentially unsafe product is contrary to established New Jersey law. Additionally, there will be a chilling effect if consumers are led to believe such exculpatory provisions are enforceable. Defendants will be able to purport to contract away their statutorily fixed obligation to refrain from producing dangerous products. Likewise, Plaintiffs would mistakenly believe they are barred from seeking relief for serious injury arising from defective products. This would result in a reduction in costs for unscrupulous manufacturers and sellers while companies creating safe products would be burdened with a higher cost of doing business. The ultimate effect would be a proliferation of unsafe products and injured consumers believing they have no grounds for redress. Clearly, this was not the Legislature’s intent when the NJPLA was enacted.

29. It was, however, the Legislature’s intent in drafting the TCCWNA to prevent against this type of harm. A provision that purports to absolve Defendant of liability resulting from its dangerous products is unlawful. Plaintiffs have a legal right under the NJPLA to bring suit against manufacturers and sellers of dangerous products. Likewise, Defendant has a statutorily imposed duty to refrain from introducing dangerous products into the marketplace and is liable for same.

30. Defendant has a clear responsibility under the NJPLA to manufacture and sell safe products. The “Terms of Use” purport to remove that legal responsibility and absolve Defendant from responsibility for resulting injury to consumers.

31. These “Terms of Use” therefore violate the TCCWNA. Plaintiff’s counsel previously notified Defendant of the violations set forth herein. Since that date, Defendant has purported to make changes in some of the language of its “Terms of Use” in order to address those violations, a fact which underscores strongly the correctness and validity of Plaintiff’s position and of the factual and legal contentions set forth in this Complaint.

C. Terms of Use Which Purport to Require Plaintiff and Class Members to Indemnify Defendant and its Personnel Violate the TCCWNA.

32. Under New Jersey law, it is “clearly established that ‘a contract will not be construed to indemnify the indemnitee against losses resulting from its own negligence unless such an intention is expressed in unequivocal terms.’” Martinez-Santiago v. Public Storage, 38 F. Supp. 3d 500, 516 (D.N.J. 2014) (quoting Ramos v. Browning Ferris Indus. of S. Jersey, Inc., 103 N.J. 177, 191 (1986)); Castro v. Sovran Self Storage, Inc., 2015 WL 4380775, at *9-*10 (D.N.J. July 16, 2015) (citing Martinez-Santiago).

33. At all relevant times, Defendant’s “Terms of Use” required Plaintiff and Class Members to “defend, indemnify and otherwise hold harmless Finish Line, its affiliates and its and their respective officers, directors, agents, employees and assigns from and against any cause of action or claim, including legal fees, related to User’s use of the site.” This language purports to go much further than the provision in Ramos, and plainly violates the TCCWNA.

D. Terms and Conditions Which Purport to Remove Defendant’s Responsibility for Certain Acts of Third Parties and Purport to Bar Plaintiff’s Grounds for Redress Violate the TCCWNA.

34. The “Terms of Use” violate New Jersey law in that they purport to absolve Defendant of its duty to protect customers against harm arising from third-party acts. See, e.g. Butler v. Acme Markets, Inc., 89 N.J. 270, 284 (1982) (upholding duty imposed on business owner to protect against third-party criminal acts since, “the business invitor is in the best position to provide either warnings or adequate protection for its patrons...[and] the public interest lies in providing a reasonably safe place for a patron to shop[.]”); Trentacost v. Brussel, 82 N.J. 214, 231 (1980) (landlord owes duty to tenant to provide reasonable security measures protecting against criminal acts of third-parties).

35. Defendants have a clear duty under the common law to provide a safe environment for their customers to shop. See, Butler, 89 N.J. at 284. The fact that Defendants sell their products online should not absolve them of their well-defined duty to protect customers from the criminal acts of third-parties. Indeed, in today’s modern-society the internet has become the shopping mall and third-party computer hackers the pickpockets.¹

36. The Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) and Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”) have promulgated standards for businesses to safeguard against the disclosure of sensitive consumer information to third-party criminal hackers. According to the FTC, “it is almost impossible to be in business and not collect or hold personally identifying information — names and addresses, Social Security numbers, credit card numbers, or other account numbers — about your customers, employees, business partners, students, or patients. If this information falls into the wrong hands, it could put these individuals at risk for identity theft.”² Accordingly, the FTC instructs business owners to take safeguards to prevent against the disclosure of customer information to criminal third-parties and to follow state and federal notification requirements if and/when a breach occurs. Id.

² Federal Trade Commission, Information Compromise and the Risk of Identity Theft: Guidance for Your Business (2004), <https://www.ftc.gov/tips-advice/business-center/guidance/information-compromise-risk-identity-theft-guidance-your>.

37. Likewise, the FCC, in connection with the Department of Homeland Security, the National Cyber Security Alliance and The Chamber of Commerce promulgates a set of standards for business owners to follow to protect consumer information from third-party criminal hackers. Namely, according to the FCC, businesses are under an obligation “to do more to protect against growing cyber threats.”³ How a business “handle[s] and protect[s] . . . data is central to the security of [the] business and the privacy expectations of customers, employees and partners.” Id. at PDS-1. Under the FCC’s guidelines “[a]ll companies should develop and maintain clear and robust policies for safeguarding critical business data and sensitive information[.]” Id. at PDMI-1.

38. Indeed, the FCC explicitly acknowledges, “[p]rivacy is important for your business and your customers. Continued trust in your business practices, products and secure handling of your clients’ unique information impacts your profitability. Your privacy policy is a pledge to your customers that you will use and protect their information in ways that they expect and that adhere to your legal obligations . . . [c]ustomers . . . expect you to make their privacy a priority . . . you will be held accountable for what you claim and offer in your policy.” Id. at PDS-2. Indeed, emerging technology offers “cyber criminals many new ways to victim your business, scam your customers and hurt your reputation.” Id. at SF-1. As such, business owners are directed to implement various action items including training plans for employees, protections against online fraud, protections against malware and fake antivirus offers and other malicious software. Id. at SF-1 to SF-3.

39. In no uncertain terms, the FCC warns business owners of the consequences of failing to take proper security measures to protect against third-party criminal acts:

Website security is more important than ever. Web servers, which host the data and other content available to your customers on the Internet, are often the most targeted and attacked components of a company's network. Cyber criminals are constantly looking for improperly secured websites to attack, while many customers say website security is a top consideration when they choose to shop online. As a result, it is essential to secure servers and the network infrastructure that supports them. The consequences of a security breach are great: loss of revenues, damage to credibility, legal liability and loss of customer trust.

Id. at WS-1. Additionally, the FCC endorses the use of Operational Security measures to identify critical protected information, analyze threats to and vulnerability of that information and countermeasures available to mitigate those threats. Id. at OS-1. Explicitly, the FCC relays that if a business “accepts payments by credit or debit card[s], it is important to have security steps in place to ensure . . . customer information is safe.” Id. at PC-1.

40. With these standards in mind, the United States District Court, District of New Jersey recently upheld a claim against business owners who failed “to implement reasonable and appropriate security measures” protecting their online clients’ information from data breaches effectuated by third-party hackers. F.T.C. v. Wyndham Worldwide Corp., 10 F.Supp.3d 602, 608-09 (D.N.J. 2014) (denying defendant online hotel company’s motion to dismiss and agreeing with the FTC that online companies’ substandard online security measures were cause in fact of plaintiffs’ injuries – despite intervening acts of third-party hackers.).

41. Additionally, the New Jersey Legislature has devoted an entire statutory regime towards regulating online businesses safeguarding of customers’ personal information from third-party criminal hackers. See N.J.S.A. 56:8-161, et seq. Failure to comply with the statutory mandates and take proper safeguards to notify and protect against the dissemination of customers’ personal information – even if disclosed as the result of third-party criminal acts – is a tortious offense and actionable under the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act. N.J.S.A. 56:8-3; 56:8-3.1.

42. Despite the controlling statutes, common law and FTC and FCC guidelines, Defendant purports to absolve itself of the responsibility to take reasonable measures and statutorily fixed measures to protect consumers from third-party criminal hackers.

43. At all relevant times, Defendant purported in its “Terms of Use” that they were not liable for, “ANY DAMAGE OR INJURY RESULTING FROM NEGLIGENCE OR OMISSION OF FINISH LINE, COMPUTER VIRUS OR OTHER SIMILAR ITEM, TELECOMMUNICATIONS ERRORS, OR UNAUTHORIZED ACCESS TO OR USE OF USER INFORMATION THROUGH THEFT OR ANY OTHER MEANS. FINISH LINE IS NOT LIABLE FOR CRIMINAL, TORTIOUS, OR NEGLIGENT ACTIONS OR OMISSIONS OF THIRD PARTIES THAT AFFECT THIS SITE.”

44. The Legislature, Courts and Regulatory Agencies have identified steps Defendants are required to take to protect consumers from harms perpetuated by third-party criminals. The above language purports to absolve Defendants of these aforementioned responsibilities. Likewise, the provision purports to bar Plaintiffs from seeking redress under the common law or N.J.S.A. 56:8-161, et al. for Defendants failure to protect against third-party criminal acts.

45. Defendants have a duty to take reasonable steps to prevent harm to consumers and prospective consumers arising from third-party criminal acts. Plaintiffs have a means of redress for Defendants failure to take steps to protect against harms perpetuated by third-party criminals. This clause purports to take away these rights and responsibilities and thus violates the TCCWNA.

E. Defendant's "Terms of Use" Violate the TCCWNA

46. New Jersey consumer protection laws, including the TCCWNA, are designed to protect consumers from the type of unconscionable and illegal provisions contained in Defendant's "Terms of Use" as set forth above.

47. Defendant's imposition upon consumers of the above-described provisions in its "Terms of Use" violates certain common law standards and statutory provisions, including, but not limited to the New Jersey Product Liability Law, and thus violates TCCWNA, most particularly N.J.S.A. 56:12-15.

48. Plaintiff therefore brings the statutory claim alleged herein to halt Defendant's continued use of the illegal language in its "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" and "Indemnification" provisions included in the "Terms of Use" on Defendant's website as of the date of purchase by Plaintiff and Class Members, and to impose those remedies provided for in the TCCWNA.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

49. Plaintiff brings this class action pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of herself and all members of the following Class:

All persons in the State of New Jersey who were exposed to the Terms of Use on Defendant's website, www.finishline.com, during the applicable statute of limitations up to and including October 25, 2015.

50. Subject to additional information obtained through further investigation and discovery, the foregoing definition of the Class may be expanded or narrowed by amendment.

51. Specifically excluded from the proposed Class is Defendant, its officers, directors, and employees. Also excluded from the proposed Class is the Court, the Court's immediate family and Court staff.

FRCP 23(a) Factors

52. Numerosity. Membership in the Class is so numerous that separate joinder of each member is impracticable. The precise number of Class Members is unknown at this time but can be readily determined from Defendant's records. Plaintiff reasonably estimates that there are thousands of persons in the Class.

53. Adequacy of Representation. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the members of the Class. Plaintiff has retained counsel highly experienced in complex consumer class action litigation and intends to prosecute this action vigorously. Plaintiff is a member of the Class described herein and does not have interests antagonistic to, or in conflict with, the other members of the Class.

54. Typicality. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Class. Plaintiff and all members of the Class purchased goods and/or services from Defendant's website, www.finishline.com, and/or were displayed, exposed and/or offered the "Terms of Use" containing the illegal and predatory exculpatory provisions on that website.

55. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Law and Fact. There are central and substantial questions of law and fact common to all Class Members that control this litigation and predominate over any individual issues. Included within the common questions are the following:

- a) Whether at all relevant times Defendant included on its website, www.finishline.com, a contract entitled "Finishline.com – Website Terms of Use Agreement" that included provisions entitled "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" and "Indemnification";

- b) Whether at all relevant times the “Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability” provisions of Defendant’s “Terms of Use” contained exculpatory language which disclaims liability for virtually any claim under tort or negligence arising from their purchase of goods or services from the website, and absolved Defendant from any liability for intentional tortious conduct and from any liability for dangerous or substandard products;
- c) Whether at all relevant times the “Indemnification” provision of Defendant’s “Terms of Use” required Plaintiff and Class Members to indemnify and hold harmless Defendant and its personnel for any activity arising out of the use of Defendant’s website by Plaintiff and Class Members;
- d) Whether at all relevant times the exculpatory language in the “Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability” provisions of Defendant’s “Terms of Use” violated New Jersey statutory and common law;
- e) Whether at all relevant times the “Indemnification” language in Defendant’s “Terms of Use” violated New Jersey statutory and common law;
- f) Whether at all relevant times the exculpatory language in the “Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability” provisions of Defendant’s “Terms of Use” violated New Jersey’s TCCWNA, N.J.S.A. 56:12-14 et seq.;
- g) Whether at all relevant times the “Indemnification” language in Defendant’s “Terms of Use” violated New Jersey’s TCCWNA, N.J.S.A. 56:12-14 et seq.;
- h) Whether the Class is entitled to relief pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17, terminating the “Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability” and “Indemnification” provisions contained in Defendant's "Terms of Use" insofar as they continue to violate said provisions of law;

- i) Whether Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to a civil penalty of not less than $100 for each violation of the TCCWNA pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17;
- j) Whether Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17, to reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs, and in what amount; and
- k) Whether Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to declaratory and/or other equitable relief.

FRCP 23(b)(2)

56. Defendant has acted on grounds generally applicable to the entire Class, thereby warranting final relief pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17, whereby the above-referenced language in the "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" and "Indemnification" provisions of the "Terms of Use" would be terminated insofar as they continue to violate said provisions of law, which would be appropriate with respect to the Class as a whole. The prosecution of separate actions by individual Class Members would create the risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the Class that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant.

57. Relief under N.J.S.A. 56:12-17, whereby the above-referenced language in the "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" and "Indemnification" provisions of the "Terms of Use" would be terminated insofar as they continue to violate said provisions of law, is necessary to prevent further predatory and illegal business practices by Defendant. Money damages alone will not afford adequate and complete relief, and the relief sought is necessary to restrain Defendant from continuing to commit its predatory and illegal policies.

FRCP 23(b)(3)

58. Common Issues Predominate: As set forth in detail herein above, common issues of fact and law predominate because all of Plaintiff's TCCWNA claims are based on a common course of conduct. Whether at all relevant times the above-referenced language in Defendant's "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" and "Indemnification" provisions contained in its "Terms of Use" imposed illegal burdens on consumers is an issue common to all members of the Class and is the predominant issue, and Plaintiff can prove the elements of her claims on a class-wide basis using the same evidence as would be used to prove those elements in individual actions alleging the same claims.

59. Superiority. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy for at least the following reasons:

- a) Given the size of the claims of individual Class Members, as well as the resources of Defendant, few, if any, could afford to seek legal redress individually for the wrongs alleged herein;
- b) This action will permit an orderly and expeditious administration of the claims of Class Members, will foster economies of time, effort and expense, and will ensure uniformity of decisions;
- c) Any interest of Class Members in individually controlling the prosecution of separate actions is not practical, creates the potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments, and would create a burden on the court system;
- d) Without a class action, Class Members will continue to suffer as a consequence of Defendant's illegal and predatory conduct, Defendant's violations of law will proceed without remedy, and Defendant will continue to reap and retain the substantial proceeds derived from its wrongful and unlawful conduct. Plaintiff and the Classes are entitled to appropriate civil penalties. This action presents no difficulties that will impede its management by the Court as a class action.

60. Certification is also warranted under Rule 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure because Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making final relief pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17 appropriate with respect to the Class as a whole.

CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Based on the foregoing allegations, Plaintiff's claims for relief include the following:

COUNT I

Violations of the New Jersey Truth-in-Consumer Contract, Warranty and Notice Act ("TCCWNA") N.J.S.A. 56:12-14, et seq.

61. Plaintiff hereby incorporates by reference each of the preceding and subsequent paragraphs of this complaint as though fully set forth herein.

62. The TCCWNA declares "No seller ... shall in the course of his business offer to any consumer or prospective consumer or enter into any written consumer contract or give or display any written consumer warranty, notice or sign after the effective date of this act which includes any provision that violates any clearly established legal right of a consumer or responsibility of a seller ... as established by State or Federal Law at the time the offer is made or the consumer contract is signed or the warranty, notice or sign is given or displayed." N.J.S.A. 56:12-15.

63. Defendant is a "seller" within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 56:12-15.

64. Plaintiff is a "consumer" as contemplated by N.J.S.A. 56:12-15.

65. Defendant's "Terms of Use" constitute a consumer contract displayed and/or offered by seller to consumers and/or prospective consumers.

66. At all relevant time, the "Terms of Use," as detailed above, included provisions that violated the legal rights of consumers and prospective consumers and/or responsibility of the seller.

67. First, at all relevant times Defendant included on its website, www.finishline.com, language in the "Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability" provisions of the "Terms of Use" that purported to disclaim liability for virtually any claim under tort or negligence arising from their use of the website and/or purchase of goods or services from the website.

68. Such exculpatory provisions are disfavored by New Jersey law because "they undermine one purpose of tort law, which is to deter careless behavior by a party in the best position to prevent injuries in the first place." See, Martinez-Santiago, supra, 38 F.Supp.3d at 512-13. Moreover, at all relevant times this provision purported to deprive Plaintiff of her right to a cause of action for any unreasonable risk of harm created by Defendant. Likewise, the provision purported to absolve Defendant of its legal responsibility to exercise due care and refrain from creating an unreasonable risk of harm to consumers. Such a provision is contrary to well-established principles of common law and contrary to the TCCWNA.

69. In addition, at all relevant times these exculpatory provisions purported to absolve Defendant of any responsibility for manufacturing and/or selling a dangerous product and to bar Plaintiff from asserting a claim under the NJPLA for injuries suffered as a result of Defendant's dangerous products. This provision is contrary to the New Jersey Products Liability Act and defies the Legislatures intent in attempting to address the "urgent need" to protect consumers from dangerous products. See N.J.S.A 2A:58C-1. At all relevant times this provision purported to deprive Plaintiff of her right to a cause of action under the New Jersey Products Liability Act and purports to absolve Defendant of its responsibility to manufacture and sell safe products. Notwithstanding the chilling effect on the marketplace as a whole were this provision deemed lawful, this provision defies the clear language of the NJPLA and thus violates the TCCWNA.

70. Further, at all relevant times, under the “Terms of Use” Defendant’s “Indemnification” provision required Plaintiff and Class Members to “defend, indemnify and otherwise hold harmless Finish Line, its affiliates and its and their respective officers, directors, agents, employees and assigns from and against any cause of action or claim, including legal fees, related to User’s use of the site.”

71. Under New Jersey law, it is “clearly established that ‘a contract will not be construed to indemnify the indemnitee against losses resulting from its own negligence unless such an intention is expressed in unequivocal terms.’” Martinez-Santiago v. Public Storage, 38 F. Supp. 3d 500, 516 (D.N.J. 2014) (quoting Ramos v. Browning Ferris Indus. of S. Jersey, Inc., 103 N.J. 177, 191 (1986)); Castro v. Sovran Self Storage, Inc., 2015 WL 4380775, at *9-*10 (D.N.J. July 16, 2015) (citing Martinez-Santiago). Defendant’s language purports to go much further than the provision in Ramos, and plainly violates the TCCWNA.

72. Moreover, at all relevant times the “Terms of Use” purported to absolve Defendant of its duty as a business to protect consumers and prospective consumers from the illegal acts of third parties. Defendant has a duty under the common law, N.J.S.A. 56:8-161, et seq and various Federal Regulatory Standards to protect customers from the illegal acts of third parties. See Butler, supra 89 N.J. 284 (business owner has a duty to protect against third-party criminal acts since, “the business invitor is in the best position to provide either warnings or adequate protection for its patrons . . . [and] the public interest lies in providing a reasonably safe place for a patron to shop[.]”); Wyndham Worldwide Corp., 10 F.Supp.3d 608-09 (Plaintiff had cause of action against online business since substandard internet security measures were cause in fact of plaintiffs’ injuries – despite intervening acts of third-party hackers.); N.J.S.A. 56:8-163.

73. At all relevant times Defendant purported to do away with its responsibility to take reasonable steps to ensure security measures were in place to protect Plaintiffs and their personal information from the criminal acts of third-party hackers. Likewise, at all relevant times Defendant purported to deny Plaintiffs’ their legal right to pursue a cause of action against Defendants for their failure to take basic reasonable steps required under the common law, N.J.S.A. 56:8-161, et al. and applicable regulatory schemes. This provision is unlawful and violates the TCCWNA.

74. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 56:12-17, Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to (a) a civil penalty of not less than $100, payable to Plaintiff and each Class Member, for each violation of the TCCWNA; and (b) reasonable attorneys’ fees and court costs.

75. Plaintiff reserves the right to identify additional provisions of the law violated by Defendant as further investigation and discovery warrant.

DEMAND/PRAAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff on behalf of herself and members of the Class defined herein, prays for judgment and relief as follows:

- A. An Order certifying that this action may be maintained as a class action;
- B. Judgment awarding to Plaintiff and Class Members not less than $100 for each violation of the TCCWNA;
- C. An Order terminating the above-referenced language in the “Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability” and “Indemnification” provisions of the “Terms of Use” set forth on

Defendant's website, www.finishline.com, and ordering Defendant to remove said terms from its website insofar as they continue to violate said provisions of law;

- D. Plaintiff's reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs; and
- E. Such other and further relief as the Court may deem necessary and appropriate.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff and Class Members, pursuant to Fed. R Civ. P. 38(b), hereby demand trial by jury.
